

Congressman Rob Wittman (VA-1) today announced he will host three outreach events later this month focused on issues facing seniors. Wittman will host two in-person town halls, in Fredericksburg and Yorktown, and one telephone town hall to provide opportunity for others unable to attend in person.

“With these meetings, seniors will have an opportunity to discuss issues affecting them directly,” Wittman said. “Seniors often ask about how recent action by Congress will affect their Social Security and Medicare, and how this work will also affect their children and grandchildren. I look forward to speaking with folks about these issues and more.”
